

Dionisis Grigoropoulos

Dionisis Grigoropoulos was born in Athens in 1971. He is the Co-Founder and Managing Director of Logistics Way firm since 2008. He was member of the Board of Directors of Hellenic Logistics Association (EEL) since 2007 until 2012 and founding member of ITS HELLAS and Board member in the period 2007-2009. From 2014 is the President of Cold Storage & Logistics Association, which is the official body in Cold supply chain and logistics operations in Greece and Cyprus. He studied Computer Science in the Technological Educational Institute (TEI) of Piraeus. He has also a Bachelors degree from the University of Hertfordshire, a Diploma on Principles of Management by the Hellenic American Union, and an MBA degree from the University of Bath. He has over 20 years experience in management of supply chains.

Greek Cold Storage & Logistics Association
President